Madison Heights Master Plan Open House

An Open House for the Madison Heights Master Plan will be held Monday, April 10, 2023. The event will run from 5-7 pm in the Monelison Middle School Gymnasium. Citizens are invited to come and go as they please and view draft information about the Master Planning effort for Madison Heights, including implementation measures such as entrance features and streetscaping.

The finalized plan will serve as a “blueprint” for the future of the Madison Heights area. It will provide a long-term guide for growth and development, establishing a vision of what Madison Heights could look like in the future. The plan addresses various topics, including land use, housing, economic development, and transportation. It identifies objectives and strategies that can be implemented to realize the community’s vision.

The master planning website has been updated with project resources, survey results, and FAQ and can serve as an excellent resource in preparation for the Open House.
