Amherst County Welcomes New Public Information Officer

Amherst County is proud to announce and warmly welcomes Stewart (Tyler) Creasy as our new Public Information Officer (PIO). Tyler will serve as the central social media contact, as well as writing and publishing press releases and other county promotional materials.

“I am truly looking forward to starting my career with the County of Amherst as the Public Information Officer,” says Creasy. “Growing up and admiring my grandfather as he served as a Magistrate for the 24th District of Virginia, drew me towards public service. I hope to bring the upmost professionalism to the PIO position, as I serve as a representative of Amherst County.”

Tyler was born and raised in Amherst County and graduated from Amherst County High School. He joins the County Administration office after recently graduating from James Madison University (JMU). In his time at JMU, he received his Bachelor’s Degree in Justice Studies, with a minor in Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Soon after his completion of undergraduate work, Tyler enrolled in JMU’s Masters of Public Administration program, in which he graduated in May, 2017. In addition to serving as the central social media contact, Creasy will support the County Administrator’s office with daily Administrative Assistant duties.
