County Seeks Input for Madison Heights Master Plan

Amherst County is in the process of creating a Madison Heights Master Plan. An important part of this planning is seeking input from the community. Citizens can follow the planning process and share input with the county through the Madison Heights Master Plan website.

The finalized plan will serve as a “blueprint” for the future of the Madison Heights area. It will provide a long-term guide for growth and development, establishing a vision of what Madison Heights could look like in the future. The plan addresses various topics, including land use, housing, economic development, and transportation. It identifies objectives and strategies that can be implemented to realize the community’s vision.

This is a year-long planning process that started in the winter of 2022 and will solicit the opinions of residents, business owners, and property owners in the study area to create a long-term vision that the county will use to plan for growth and improvement in the coming years. Visit the project website for updates, project information, and opportunities to share your thoughts on this process.
